Contents of Vol. 23

Vol. 23, No. 1

Analysis and testing of the metal parts furnace for the demilitarization of chemical warfare munitions
R.L. Fournier (Toledo, OH, U.S.A.), D.A. Horne, F.G. Rinker (Perrysburgh, OH, U.S.A.) and K. Jackson (Tooele, UT, U.S.A.) ..... 1

Evaluation of serial anaerobic/aerobic packed bed bioreactors for treatment of a Superfund leachateE.A. Dienemann, D.S. Kosson and R.C. Ahlert (Piscataway, NJ, U.S.A.) ..... 21

Vertical and horizontal purging of contaminated groundwater in confined spaces
S. Viswanathan, A.W. Gnyp, D. Machina and P.J. Blunt (Windsor, Ont., Canada) ..... 43

Deciding between in-place protection and evacuation in toxic vapor cloud emergencies
T.S. Glickman and A.M. Ujihara (Washington, DC, U.S.A.) ..... 57

Prediction of spontaneous ignition behavior of powdery organic peroxide: Effect of temperature dependence of thermal conductivity
T. Ogawa, H. Itagaki, J. Nabeshima (Yokohama, Japan), H. Sakai and S. Suyama (Aichi, Japan) ..... 73

Performance of pressure vessel test concerned with heating rate of pressure vessel and bursting pressure of rupture disk
N. Tanaka (Ehime-ken, Japan), Y. Wada, M. Tamura and T. Yoshida (Tokyo, Japan) ..... 89

Short communication
Public health consequences of acute chemical releases, Louisiana, 1986
P. Duclos and S. Binder (Atlanta, GA, U.S.A.) ..... 109

EPA Summary Technology Demonstration
Shirco electric infrared incineration system at the Peak Oil Superfund site
H. Wall (Cincinnati, OH, U.S.A.) ..... 113

Call for Papers ..... 121
Book Reviews ..... 125

Vol. 23, No. 2

Development of a vegetation-damage indicator as a means of post-accident investigation for chlorine releases
R.F. Griffiths and L.E. Smith (Manchester, U.K.) ..... 137

Modelling two-phase jets for hazard analysis
D.M. Webber (Warrington, U.K.) and J.S. Kukkonen (Helsinki, Finland) ..... 167

Industrial explosives — A brief history of their development and use
S. Meyers and E.S. Shanley (Cambridge, MA, U.S.A.) ..... 183

Removal of chemical contamination from vehicles by exposure to sun and wind
D. Amos (Ascot Vale, Vict., Australia), R.C. Boston (Murdoch, W.A., Australia), P.J. Gray and B. Leake (Ascot Vale, Vict., Australia) ..... 203

Further verification of a theory for mass and heat transfer from evaporating pools
P.W.M. Brighton (Cheshire, U.K.) ..... 215

Effect of high energy materials on the thermal stability and shelf life of CMDB propellants
S.N. Asthana, R.B. Ghavate (Pashan, India) and H. Singh (Manesar, India) ..... 235

EPA Project Summary
Evaluation of the B.E.S.T. ™ solvent extraction sludge treatment technology twenty-four hour test
G.W. Sudell (Edison, NJ, U.S.A.) ..... 245

Book Reviews ..... 251

Vol. 23, No. 3

A method for estimating the magnitude and timing of excess cancer risks from less-than-lifetime exposures to contaminated well water
J.A. Mauskopf (Research Triangle Park, NC, U.S.A.) ..... 263

Theoretical analysis and experimental evaluations of the behaviour of granular moist pig iron stocked in the presence of air and related hazards
G. Giorleo (Bari, Italy) and F. Gioia (Naples, Italy) ..... 275

Hazardous waste generation, transportation, reclamation, and disposal: California's manifest system and the case of halogenated solvents
D. Pekelney (Santa Monica, CA, U.S.A.) ..... 293

Rapid and secondary sorption of benzene and toluene by two aquifer solids
W.K. Ahlert and C.G. Uchrin (New Brunswick, NJ, U.S.A.) ..... 317

EPA Project Summary
Treatment of hazardous landfill leachates and contaminated groundwater
R.C. Ahlert and D.S. Kosson (Piscataway, NJ, U.S.A.) ..... 331

Announcements ..... 343
Book Reviews ..... 345
Author Index of Vol. 23 ..... 357
